Looking good!
Pretty Little Liars' Lucy Hale models ways to spotlight her favorite feature

Eye Candy!

FRINGE FESTIVAL "Mascara is everything!" says the 24-year-old actress. "I don't leave home without it — even if I work at 4 A.M." For a mod look, pro Jamie Greenberg inked Hale's rims with Mark's pencil ($10, meetmark.com), applied four coats of Tom Ford Beauty Extreme and fanned lashes with a spiral brush. ($42, tomford.com)

BOLTS OF BLUE Though the Memphis-born country singer (her first album, Road Between, debuts June 3) is faithful to earth-tone shadows, she admits cobalt is "really fun!" L.A.-based Greenberg created a color block using teal and navy in Mark's Saint Barts Palette. ($16, shop.avon.com)

"When I don't want to look too made-up, I'll put eyeliner on my waterline — black on top, brown on bottom."

LOW VISIBILITY

A flick of an eye pencil transformed the cat's-eye Greenberg painted on top lids with Mark's black liquid liner ($7, meetmark.com). The bronze dash below, in YSL Eyeliner Baby Doll in No. 6, says Greenberg, "lights up Lucy's complexion." ($34, yslbeautyus.com)

"I haven't quite mastered winged liner, but I'm pretty good at a smoky eye. The more messed up it is, the better it looks!"
