Nashville born, LA based indie pop singer morgxn has had an incredibly buzzworthy and well-deserved rise to prominence over the last couple of years, lighting up the blogosphere and breaking into radio thanks to tunes like “Home” (a 2016 song he re-recorded with Walk the Moon last year), “Carry the Weight,” and recent jam “A New Way.” Between festival stops, TV appearances, shows with likes of X Ambassadors, Skylar Grey, and Dreamers, and a great full-length debut, his LOTG outing promises to be a weekend highlight.
