About her first solo album Grace Potter said: "Everything about this record has been a wild, wonderful odyssey. I explore new sounds with each album I write and this time around I learned to be patient and really allow each song to boil down to its most universal form. Eric Valentine's studio has a creative atmosphere that allows an artist to chase down every crazy idea while producing some of the most exciting, high quality sounds I've ever heard. It's been a life-changing experience and I can't wait to take my live show even deeper and dive into old and new songs!"

Grace Potter's hometown music festival, Grand Point North, is returning for its fifth installment this September 12 & 13 at Waterfront Park in Burlington, VT. Early bird tickets are only $69 for a two-day ticket, with only 500 available before they increase to $79. VIP tickets are also available at $159 for a two-day ticket and include early entry to the festival, access to the VIP viewing area at the sound board, a commemorative VIP laminate, a festival poster signed by Grace, and entry to the VIP tent with access to shade, seating, food, and discounted beverages. The full Grand Point North festival lineup will be announced in coming weeks. Grace will be performing full sets both nights. Tickets will be available at 11AM EDT on April 8 at www.grandpointnorth.com.
